

Activity Report: Tree Plantation Program by NSS, Nutan Mahavidyalaya, Selu

Date: 21st July 2019

Organized by: NSS, Nutan Mahavidyalaya, selu

Venue: Rawalgaon Gram Panchayat and Primary School Campus

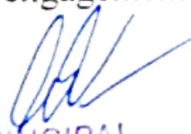

Chief Guests:

Dr. Sharad Kulkarni, Principal, Nutan Mahavidyalaya, Sailu

Sarpanch Rodge Mam

Introduction:

On the verdant grounds of Nutan Mahavidyalaya, Sailu, a transformative event unfolded on the 21st of July 2019, epitomizing a profound commitment to environmental stewardship and communal engagement. The Tree Plantation Program, orchestrated by the National Service Scheme (NSS), emerged as a beacon of hope, rallying individuals from all walks of life to partake in a collective endeavor towards ecological preservation. Under the gracious patronage of distinguished Chief Guests, Dr. Sharad Kulkarni and Sarpanch Rodge Mam, the program transcended mere symbolism to embody a tangible manifestation of conscientious action. Their esteemed presence infused the occasion with wisdom and foresight, underscoring the gravity of our shared responsibility towards the planet. In his impassioned discourse, Sarpanch Rodge Mam underscored the intrinsic value of environmental conservation, issuing a poignant call to arms for the community to embrace a culture of proactive engagement. His words

PRINCIPAL
Nutan Mahavidyalaya
Selu

resonated deeply, igniting a spark of conviction within each attendee, compelling them to heed the imperative of safeguarding our natural heritage.

Objective

- Foster a culture of environmental stewardship and communal engagement.
- Promote awareness and education on the importance of ecological preservation.
- Encourage active participation in environmental conservation efforts.
- Cultivate a sense of responsibility towards nurturing the natural environment.
- Forge bonds of solidarity and collaboration across diverse demographics for sustainable living.

Summary

The Tree Plantation Program organized by NSS at Nutan Mahavidyalaya, Sailu, on 21st July 2019, was a significant step towards environmental conservation and community participation. The event witnessed the presence of esteemed Chief Guests, Dr. Sharad Kulkarni and Sarpanch Rodge Mam, who graced the occasion with their insightful perspectives on environmental sustainability. Sarpanch Rodge Mam, in his address, emphasized the importance of environmental conservation and encouraged the community to contribute by planting at least five trees annually. This resonated deeply with the audience, instilling a sense of responsibility towards nurturing the environment.

A diverse array of 14 tree species was planted across the Rawalgaon Gram Panchayat and Primary School campus, enhancing the green cover and biodiversity of the region. Additionally, 68 trees were distributed among the attendees by the Chief Guests, fostering a culture of active participation in environmental initiatives.

Dr. Sharad Kulkarni, Principal of Nutan Mahavidyalaya, and Dr. R.R. Bainwad, Director of NSS, along with the college staff and students, played a pivotal role in the success of the program. Their unwavering dedication and commitment to environmental conservation set a commendable example for the entire community.

PRINCIPAL
Nutan Mahavidyalaya
SELU, Dist. Parbhani

During the tree planting session, Dr. Kulkarni, Dr. Bainwad, along with Prof. Suresh Ugale, Prof. Vikas Dhale, and Prof. Shambhaji Rodge, actively participated alongside the students of the college. This collaborative effort underscored the collective responsibility towards creating a sustainable future. The Tree Plantation Program not only contributed to environmental preservation but also fostered a sense of unity and community engagement. It served as a platform for knowledge exchange and awareness building, inspiring individuals to take proactive steps towards safeguarding our planet.

Moving forward, NSS, Nutan Mahavidyalaya, selu, remains committed to organizing such impactful initiatives that promote environmental consciousness and foster a culture of sustainable living within the community.

As the seeds of awareness were sown, a palpable sense of camaraderie permeated the atmosphere, uniting individuals in a common purpose. The Tree Plantation Program served as a crucible for dialogue and collaboration, transcending barriers of age, occupation, and creed to forge bonds of solidarity rooted in reverence for nature. With each sapling planted, a silent vow was made to nurture and protect, symbolizing a pledge of custodianship towards future generations. The inaugural ceremony, marked by fervor and resolve, heralded the dawn of a new era, where the ethos of sustainability and community empowerment reign supreme. In the annals of Nutan Mahavidyalaya's history, the Tree Plantation Program stands as a testament to the indomitable spirit of human endeavor, beckoning us to embark upon a journey of transformation, one tree at a time.

PRINCIPAL
Nutan Mahavidyalaya
SELU, Dist. Parbhani

National Service Scheme -2019-20

NSS, Nutan Mahavidyalaya, Sailu has organized Tree Plantation Program in July 2019. Dr. Sharad Kulkarni and Sarpanch Rodage Mam was the chief guest of the program. Sarpanch Rodage Mam expressed his views on environment and Agriculture. He requested to plant at least Five trees every year. Different kinds of 14 trees planted in the R. R. Bainwad Gram Panchayat and Primary School campus and 68 trees were distributed by the college as a guest. Dr. Sharad Kulkarni (Principal and organizer) and Dr. Ramesh Bainwad (Director of NSS, Nutan Mahavidyalaya, Sailu), all the staff members and students were attended the program.

Dr. Sharad Kulkarni, Principal, Dr. R.R. Bainwad, Prof. Suresh Ugale, Prof. Vikas Dhale and Prof. Shambhaji Rodge of the College and students of the College while planting the tree

R.R. Bainwad
Director

PRINCIPAL
Nutan Mahavidyalaya

Dr. Sharad Kulkarni
PRINCIPAL
Nutan Mahavidyalaya
Dist. Parbhani